BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Special Meeting to Discuss Sewerage Committee's Report.

A special meeting of the board of aldermen was held in the mayor's office last night. Present His worship in the chair and Alds Harris, Vigelius, McKillican, Goodacre, Coughlan, Kelly and Harrison. Mr. Pickering was also present.

The business of the meeting was commenced by the council on motion resolving itself into a committee of the whole to read the report of the sewerage committee.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 12th, 1889.

To His Worship the Mayor and City Council:

GENTLEMEN:—Since your committee's report of the 14th August a report was furnished the Board by Mr. Pickering and read at the meeting of last evening re the amending of the Humboldt street line of sewer, which we may add here has our approval.

Re making connections to sewers: Your committee from the experience gained from the present construction of the Johnson street sewer, would suggest that in making provision for house connections that the pipes be brought to a suitable level from the surface of the street at the cost of the city, to enable the owners to connect with as little expense as possible.

Re memo. of work required to be done by engineers and inspectors: We append below our opinion regarding this matter as follows:

CITY OF VICTORIA DRAINAGE.

Work required to be done by engineers and inspectors during the execution of the works in from two to three years from the time of breaking the ground, that is exclusive of a good deal of work, and expenses in getting examined at different points; materials previous to shipment by contractor; a deal of drawings to be sent out and correspondence.

1. Settling contracts for works, preliminary to materials being provided or works being commenced.

2. Inspecting materials at different points in England previous to shipment by contractor, supplying further copies of drawings and some original detail and general direction to contractor; correspondence generally.

3. Making exploratory surveys, levelling and plotting same in sections well in advance of the works in progress, in order to save as much depth in cutting as is possible consistent with the present or probable requirements of each street or neighborhood, always being consistent with gradients being maintained workable and efficient.

4. Setting out the works in suitable lengths from time to time and occasional tests to verify the permanency and accuracy of the night rails, both as to alignment and gradient.

5. Examining the various premises abutting on the streets or public sewers (if possible with the owners), fixing the most convenient point of entry by the private drain in the future, marking same legibly on the premises, so that junctions may be put on the sewers to suit.

6. Constant and general watchfulness of the work in hand, and very probably a good deal of instruction in the way of getting out templates, moulds and patterns.

7. Measuring up from time to time concretes by tabs for use in positions where it cannot be measured in "situ," measuring up all works from time to time, making up monthly statements of work booked, calculations and certificates monthly.

8 Recording the positions of all junctions in books for each street by measurement from centres of manhole covers, etc., in lieu thereof recording the same on the plans.

9. Continuous residence in Victoria and active direction of the work by one partner during two periods, viz: At the commencement and at the termination and completion of not less than six months' duration each.

10. If any proprietor may deem it desirable to put in his private drain during the construction of the public sewers, the engineers or inspectors to supervise such private drainage (so far as it may be necessary for the corporation to do so) without any additional fee or charge by the engineers or inspectors.

Your committee are of opinion that it would be advisable to appoint a commission of three paid members (at $10 for each sitting) with the city clerk as secretary to said commission, under whom the work shall be carried out to completion.

1. That the names of the commission be set out in loan by-law.

2. That the commission meet not less than once every month.

3. That the secretary notify said commission if again required during any month or as often as required.

4. That a commission of 5 per cent. be paid to Messrs. Pickering & Crompton for carrying out and superintending the work in accordance with memo. furnished above.

5. Referring to Messrs. P. & C.'s letter of September, 1885, as follows:

That if your council should eventually honor us with the further duty of directing the execution, we would make a journey and see the works well in hand, and afterwards make a journey and see them completed, and all accounts squared up for the commission of £5 per centum of the total cost of the works, this commission to cover all expenses, the council to pay the salary of a resident inspector nominated by us, and if necessary the wages of a direct inspector to assist in the direction of the works. The visits mean six months each or more active posh in Victoria by one of us." Has our approval.

6. Should the council see fit to accept Messrs. P. & C.'s services as engineers in carrying out the work, a memorandum of agreement shall be drawn up by the city barristers, setting forth that in the event of the loan delivery by-law receiving the assent of the ratepayers, the council bind themselves to appoint the said Pickering & Crompton engineers, and in event of said loan drainage by-law not receiving the sanction of the ratepayers, said memorandum of agreement to be null and void.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

D. R. HARRIS,
L. GOODACRE,
S. L. KELLY,
} Sewerage Committee.

After the report had been read, Ald. Coughlan said it would be to the interests of the board if a copy be furnished to each member for reference. He would move that the meeting adjourn until such copies were ready. There were also several wild things which he did not agree with.

Ald. Harris—That's what the report is for. You are supposed to pick holes in it.

Ald. Coughlan did not think it necessary to take any immediate action; the matter was still premature, as the money was not yet raised.

Some discussion then arose as to the advisability of appointing a commission or not.

Ald. Goodacre thought time enough had been taken up, and it was better to discuss the report clause by clause.

His Worship, speaking of the matter of a commission, considered it would be the wisest thing to do to appoint one.

Ald. Kelly did not see how it would be possible to do without them.

Ald. Coughlan said he did not see how the city could do with them.

Ald. Vigelius thought the motion to adjourn until a copy was provided, would unnecessarily delay the work; the report was clear, and he would move that it be considered right now; it was highly necessary to get on with the work.

Ald. Coughlan held that his opinion was right, and proceeded to explain that the clause in reference to the appointment of an assistant engineer was not to be entertained; neither was the five per cent. clause to be ratified, as it was a needless expense to pay $31,000 or $40,000 to parties who could be very well done without.

Ald. Harrison coincided in much of the previous speaker's views. He considered that a copy should be provided to each member of the board.

Ald. McKillican wanted the report taken up at once and considered clause by clause; it was necessary to get the work on. Mr. Pickering had come here to give his plans, and that gentleman did not wish to stay here all summer.

Ald. Coughlan said he was hardly clear as to just what Mr. Pickering was here for.

His Worship stated at length that Mr. Pickering's experience had been availed of in preparing plans and ranking reports. At first, the speaker said, he was not in favor of the original plans, but the majority had voted for an adoption of those reports and plans, and he felt it his duty to now uphold that decision.

Ald. Coughlan asked if Mr. Pickering had not come at his own offer.

His Worship explained that Mr. Pickering had come by the request of the council who had agreed to the visit. Further he thought it only fair to Mr. Pickering that the matter be settled at once, as in the agreement it had been arranged that should the ratepayers not grant the money, the agreement would fall to the ground.

Ald. Coughlan reiterated his remarks about the foolishness of paying Pickering & Co. five per cent.

Ald. Coughlan thought it was a matter of opinion as to who was a competent man.

Ald. Harrison did not think it right to give $40,000 for superintendency and then ask the city to pay for an assistant engineer.

Ald. Coughlan said that he took an interest in the way the public money was spent.

Ald. Harris—Hear, hear.

Mr. Pickering, by request, explained to the board that it was customary to pay five per cent. to the engineer of sewerage and other public works. To reach a position enabling a man to take the great responsibility of carrying on a great public work, required that a man devote long years to study. He did not think that Ald. Coughlan had any comprehension of the vast amount of work and weight of care on an engineer who designs such a scheme.

Ald. Harrison would like to see Mr. Pickering carry out his own plans, and to remain here to personally supervise them, but he thought that in the event of Mr. Pickering's absence he should engage and pay a representative.

Mr. Pickering said he would meet Ald. Harrison to that extent and agreed to that.

Ald. Harrison—That makes it much better, and is all right.

Ald. Coughlan—All right. If you like to throw away $40,000 of the people's money when $4,000 will do, why all right.

His Worship explained that the majority ruled, and if the rules of procedure were strictly adhered to then the rights of that majority were paramount.

On being put to the vote it was decided to take up the report clause by clause and consider it.

Clause 1st and 2nd passed as read.

Clause 3 was amended at subsection 9 as follows: The engineers to pay the salary of a competent resident engineer during the portion of time of the construction of the works while one of the partners may be absent from Victoria.

Clause 4 was passed with an amendment making fee of commission $10 for each member for each session.

Clause 5 and 6 passed as read and the whole report was adopted as amended and read.

Ald. Kelly rose to say that he should like to see put on the end of the report that no Chinese are to be employed on the sewerage work in any shape or form.

His Worship said that would be inserted in the loan by-law.

The committee rose, reported progress, and the board received and adopted the report.

Ald. Harrison said that he would draw the attention of the sewerage committee to a matter connected with the 30 feet junction, with the Johnson street sewer.

Ald. Harris, as chairman of that committee explained that no orders had been given to the contractor contrary to the plans and specifications.

The question of the supply of bricks came up, and Mr. Pickering explained that since his visit in 1886 he had found a marked increase in the quality of brick made here. Material was here in plenty and it only required the proper working.

On motion the board adjourned at 10 p. m. Ald. Kelly remarking that if any of the board lived to see this sewer business complete they would do well. It was an awful thing, said he.

RIGHTS OF ALIENS IN CANADA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The various letters which have appeared in the press of this city since the now somewhat notorious Toller-Robinson-May cases were tried, have raised at least one point of no little public importance. With the merits of either of these cases I have nothing to do, nor shall I venture to express an opinion on the strictly personal matters contained in the letters referred to.

Mr. Hett, in his second letter, that of the 10th inst., says that Mr. E. M. Johnson is an American citizen, but, notwithstanding his alienship he is permitted to exercise the office of a notary public, and even to practice in the inferior courts. Mr. Johnson's reply is not at all satisfactory. He proclaims his former position on the staff of H. M. army, and winds up by referring Mr. Hett to the Horse Guards, and others who desire light on the subject to certain alleged documents in his possession. Did it ever occur to Mr. Johnson that, having been exercising the office of notary public in this city for many years, that there are a large number of people who have a right to expect from him a plain and decisive answer to the question whether he is or not a British subject? If he is not a British subject, every act and deed of his in his official capacity as a notary public is utterly void.

The parliament of Canada alone has jurisdiction in Canada over the rights of aliens, and by "An Act Respecting Naturalization and Aliens," has decreed as follows:—

"But nothing in this section shall qualify an alien for ANY office, or for any municipal, parliamentary, or other franchise; nor shall anything therein entitle an alien to any right or privilege as a British subject, except such rights and privileges in respect of property as are hereby expressly conferred upon him."

There can be no mistaking the effect of this language applied to the case of an alien in Canada exercising so important an office as that of a notary public.

I am told that there are many aliens in this city who regularly exercise the franchise. Aliens have not a shadow of right to such a franchise, and if any provincial legislation assumes to confer such a right it is unquestionably ultra vires.

Real and personal property of any description may be taken, acquired, held and disposed of by an alien in the same manner, in all respects, as by a natural born British subject; and a title to real and personal property of any description may be derived through, from, or in succession to an alien, in the same manner in all respects as through, from, or in succession to a natural born British subject. I do not assume that Mr. Johnson is not a British subject, but I think I voice public sentiment when I claim from him something more decisive and unambiguous on the point than his reply to Mr. Hett in the first instance, or later his rather clumsy evasion of the pointed questions of "Artilleryman." Neither "Artilleryman" or Mr. Hett are probably personally interested in the matter, but there must be in this community hundreds who are, and Mr. Johnson's offer to satisfy "Artilleryman" or his reference of Mr. Hett to the Horse Guards will not by any means satisfy these. INDEX.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

WELCOMED HOME.

The Queen City band headed a large crowd of the admirers of the Amities and marched down to the wharf last night to meet that club as it arrived by the Islander. Appropriate music was played and rousing cheers given to the boys, for it is evident to all that even though beaten the team is not by any means conquered. The members of the club say they are glad to get back to Victoria again, and all are a unit in expressing it as their belief that they can beat the Kamloops team when a fair show is given them. Although not taking the first prize a cash vote of cash, to the amount of $250 of prize money was brought back by them.

WINNIPEG'S HOPE.

Winnipeg is Canada's only hope now for regaining the aquatic championship. The Red river will yet develop a great sculling champion says a Winnipeg paper.

IS ANOTHER GAME POSSIBLE?

There was a sentiment in the city last night, among a good many lovers of base ball and fair play, that a match game at Beacon Hill for the provincial championship between the Kamloops and Amities would be in order, and many expressed their willingness to contribute a sum to defray the expenses of the Kamloops to the city for the purpose.

BASEBALL.

The Amities speak very highly of the three players from Portland, T. Parritz, W. Parritt and R. Turnbull, who assisted them in the Kamloops tournament. They are not only great ball players but gentlemen and "hale fellows well met." W. Parritt's feat of striking out eighteen of the Port Townsends has seldom been excelled on the coast, while T. Parritt is undoubtedly the best pitcher west and north of Chicago. His quick and deceptive delivery of the ball fools the best; also as a batter he ranks high, having made a percentage of 700 in the three games played. Dickie Turnbull is a fit the wonder, handling as he does the Parritts speedy and deceptive balls with the greatest of ease. Few can steal second on him, while to purloin third is impossible. He can do the hard work and captain for the Amities any time he wishes to.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C.)

Daniel Adams was charged with an assault on C. Brooks Smallbones. Defendant was represented by Mr. Belyea, who pleaded not guilty.

Plaintiff gave evidence that defendant had thrown him down and choked him. While giving evidence the feelings of the witness overcame him, and he broke down and wept bitterly. Chief Sheppard told the witness not to cry, while His Honor asked if the man was sober. Chief Sheppard replied that he considered the witness as sober as he ever was.

Evidence was given by a friend of complainant, which corroborated the statements made by him.

Other evidence was taken which went to show that plaintiff had made a claim against defendant which was unjust, and when refused payment became abusive and attempted to strike defendant, who then ejected plaintiff from the premises.

It was shown that the work for which payment was claimed was clearing out a cesspool, and His Honor held that the work should be paid for, stating that the plaintiff could recover pay in the county court. As for the assault, the matter was hardly dealt, and by request of plaintiff the case was adjourned until Monday.

An assault case and an infraction of the street by-law case were also adjourned until Monday.

London, Sept. 14.—Six mills have closed at Blackburn owing to depressed condition of trade.

CARDINAL MANNING'S GOOD WORK.

London, Sept. 14.—Cardinal Manning and the Lord Mayor of London are now endeavoring to bring about a settlement of the difference between lightermen and their employers, arising out of the decision of the former to reject concessions made to them until the dock laborers strike should be settled. It is thought the negotiations will be brought to a successful issue to-night.

O'CONNOR RETURNING.

London, Sept. 14.—Wm. O'Connor, the oarsman, was a passenger on the steamer Alaska, which sailed for New York to-day.

DOWN ON RIOTS.

London, Sept. 14.—At a meeting of cotton weavers it was resolved that there should be a joint meeting of operators and manufacturers to consider a scheme for breaking down the cotton ring.

BUFFALO BILL'S POPULARITY.

Paris, Sept. 14.—The exposition is averaging 150,000 people daily. Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show is turning people away and his fifth month finds public interest unabated.

THE C. P. R.

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 14.—W. C. Van Horne said to-day concerning the Canadian Pacific plan, that it will have connection with the United States at or near the international bridge and will build its own bridge across Niagara river. It has arranged for connection with six of the leading American railroads and will be able to run into Buffalo on most advantageous terms.

JUMPED OVERBOARD.

A Man Named Ross Leaps Into the Water—Funeral Obsequies.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—Passengers down from the Northwest by the steamer Athabasca, report that about one o'clock this morning, when the boat was about seven miles from Owen Sound, a second class passenger named Ross jumped overboard. The steamer was stopped but the body could not be recovered. He came from Regina and was bound for Point Mary's.

THE LAST ACT.

The funeral of the late Mr. Goderham takes place Monday next. A tremendous contingent of the Salvation Army is expected to follow the remains to the grave.

A GREAT WORK.

Young Eiffel Emulating His Father in Great Works.

Quebec, Sept. 14.—Edward Eiffel, son of the builder of the Paris tower, and M. Giel, his father's partner, are both here in connection with the proposed bridging of the St. Lawrence at Quebec, to unite the Canadian Pacific and Intercolonial railways. The estimated cost of this great work is $7,000,000.

A GRAVE CHARGE.

Dublin, Sept. 14.—The Freeman publishes a letter from Patrick Delany, now serving a term of life imprisonment in Mayborough prison, addressed to prominent officials of Dublin castle. Delany was sentenced to death for complicity in the Phœnix Park murder, but Earl Spencer when Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, commuted the sentence to imprisonment for life. He was brought before the Parnell commission last January to give testimony for the Times and in a letter he piteously implores the official addressed to obtain his release from imprisonment as a reward for his evidence, intimating that promises of recognition of his service, tantamount to immunity from further penal service, were made as inducement for him to testify.

IRELAND'S UNIVERSITY.

A Forecast of Balfour's Bill for an Irish University.

London, Sept. 14.—Mr. Gladstone since his return to England has expressed extreme annoyance at the press report of his remarks on British politics while in France.

The Irish Catholic, in its forecast of Mr. Balfour's bill for the establishment of a Catholic university in Ireland says: "The royal university will not be abolished, because it is required for Non conformists and others unable to avail themselves of the advantages offered by Trinity College, but its establishment will be largely reduced with a view of conciliating Ulster. Queen's College at Belfast will be maintained and will be empowered to confer degrees. The annual savings from extinction of Queen's College at Cork and Queen's College at Galway, combined with savings from retrenchment at Royal University, is expected partially to meet the cost of the endowment of the new university.

FRENCH ELECTIONS.

Getting Ready for the Fray—Ecclesiastical Advice.

Paris, Sept. 14.—Louis Denis Fustel de Coulanges, the distinguished French historian, is dead, aged 60 years.

The Archbishop of Tours in a public communication, exhorts the faithful to exercise their political rights, but at the same time warns them that the church should shun any participation in merely political strife.

The Bishop of Anton, in a pastoral letter, affirms the right of the clergy to vote, but counsels the faithful to offer prayers for nine days at the period of elections.

The journals are full of lists of candidates for the Chamber of Deputies and of appeals of nominees to their constituents. The number of candidates put forward as Boulangists so far is 256, and in addition to these a majority of royalists and imperialists nominees are committed openly, or by implication, to the support of Boulanger.

THE LABOR DELEGATION.

The American workingmen who have been doing Europe in the interest of the trades have returned, and in the matter of the European workman they seem to be of but one opinion, and that is, that his American prototype is the more prosperous. This they might have known without visiting Europe. The character of European emigration for the last forty years has portrayed in language stronger than words the condition of labor in that country. Still these visits are not amiss. They establish by ocular demonstration what was only known circumstantially, and besides the report these men will make of what they have seen will have greater influence with their own kind than any which could possibly emanate from an agent of the government. The policy of workingmen should be dictated by workingmen. Hitherto the radical measures coming from workingmen so-called, have been opposed chiefly by the representatives of capital, and naturally arguments coming from that quarter have been accepted with a grain of salt. Socialism, and in fact all radical movements within the labor party, are not to be met with successfully by the paid orators and organs of capital, for like the arguments of the labor agitator they represent an extreme. A conservative movement, however, originating among the workingmen, would insure the confidence of the extremists of labor, and command the respect of capital. This is the great advantage of sending workingmen's delegations abroad. Seeing with their own eyes and possessing the confidence of the men of their own kind, they become the mediators of the two the forces of society. Workingmen fighting their battles among themselves, the truth must prevail in the long run. Justice will be secured not by convulsions which throw the times out of joint, but by methods consistent with good order and the legitimate interests of the parties concerned.

PROBLEM OF TAXATION.

EDWARD ATKINSON, in the August Forum, discusses "The Problem of Poverty," and remarks that in 1880 "the whole amount of property which was assessed for local taxes in the United States was as follows: Real estate, $13,096,766,925; personal property, $2,86:,226,618; giving a total of $16,902,993,543. It will be observed in connection," points out the writer, "that the assessors' valuation on real estate includes all of building and improvements on land of every name and nature. So far as there is any information to serve as a guide, the assessment may be about evenly divided; that is to say, assessment on land $6,518,383,462, and assessment on building or other improvement the same. Suppose, however, that the land be valued at $7,000,000,000 for the assessment of taxes. In 1880 the sum of all the taxes for state and municipal purposes was over $700,000,000. This rate is ten per cent. of the assessed value. Mr. HENRY GEORGE and his co-adjutors propose to put a 'single tax' on land, in order to meet all expenses. If the 'site value,' says Mr. ATKINSON, 'of all land should be taxed ten per cent., the question may well be asked how any one but a capitalist could afford to build or cultivate it.

BASEBALL.

Perhaps we should suspend judgment on the conduct of the Kamloops tournament until we hear from the Sentinel, which, of course, will speak ex-cathedra in the matter. Our own advices, however, go to show that instead of an amateurish affair, wherein men should engage in friendly rivalry, it degenerated into a condition of competition unworthy of any other than confessed professionals, with heavy bets at stake. This, we say, is the tenor of our advices. These may be exaggerated by the sting of defeat, for the Amities are no more than mortal, so we suspend judgment until we hear from the Sentinel. There is no doubt, however, put as good a light on the contest as may be, of the determination of the Kamloops team to win by fair playing if they could, by blackguard coaching if they must. We have already deprecated the importation of skilled players from the States, not that it is not fair enough, but because the employment of mercenaries kills the local flavor. Granting the necessity of them in the roles of instructors, their use outside of that capacity is unsportsman-like, and destroys the piquancy of the contest. The pride of locality does not enter into the sport; the participants play because they are paid for it. But if it was impossible for Kamloops to furnish a base ball nine of local material which would stand anything like an even chance with the coast clubs, and this we concede, we do hold that there was no need to import the abominable system of coaching which has been practised. On the other hand, the Amities, well knowing the coaching practices of the Kamloops players, should not have permitted themselves to become rattled in the least. Forewarned is to be forearmed, and we are not inclined to extend much sympathy to the Amities for losing nerve when they most needed it, and under circumstances which they were bound to expect. Our contention is that noisy coaching, interlarded with slang, is not the proper thing, no matter who wins or who loses. Outside of the methods employed by Kamloops, nobody begrudges them victory. What matters it where the cup is, or who wins this purse or that. Our contention is, we repeat, that if these sports are to be the sports of amateurs, let them be conducted in an amateurish spirit.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Lounger writes in the Critic: I heard the other day from an authority which I cannot dispute that "The Century Dictionary" has cost the Century Co. over $500,000, and my informant added parenthetically that when the undertaking was begun, the company had no idea it would swallow up a sum approximating this. But like Topsy it "grow'd." It has taken nearly seven years of the time of some of the best experts and specialists in the country, at an annual expense of not much less than $100,000. This, I believe, is the first time the cost of making this great dictionary has been stated with any degree of accuracy.

If asked who is responsible for the enormous yearly waste of property by fire in Canada, and who pays for it, most persons would probably reply: "Our neighbor's carelessness, not ours, is responsible, and the insurance companies pay most of the loss." The answers are not the true ones in either case. It has already been shown and we are glad to find it repeated in the important address on fire waste by Mr. FREDERICK WYLD at the Hamilton Convention, that the money which pays insurance claims comes out of the pockets of insurants in the shape of premiums, and is not the capital of companies. Therefore, since the people at large pay the piper, the people at large should be roused to take every means to lessen the fire waste, in doing which they reduce the cost of insurance.

THE SEALING QUESTION.

The London "Times" on the American Policy in Behring Sea.

From the "Times," Aug. 24.)

There is a curious want of seriousness about the seizures of British vessels reported from Alaskan waters. To judge by appearances, General Harrison's administration has passed the word to its officers to frighten away Victorian sealers by sham formalities of capture; but on no account to exact the usual penalties. To such an extent is this farce kept up that a skeleton prize crew, consisting of one man, is put on board each prize, in spite of the certainty that, when out of sight of her captor, she will bear away for British Columbia as if nothing had happened, carrying her prize crew with her. Such was the course taken by the Black Diamond, captured and searched some time ago; and the schooners Minnie and Pathfinder have followed her example. It is extremely improbable that these unprivileged sealers were captured within the three-mile limit. They have a profitable hunting ground in the open sea, without running unnecessary danger. At all events, their cargoes of seal-skins do not seem to have been removed, and they eventually reached Victoria none the worse. The case of the Allie Algar, a third schooner, was different. She was boarded by the United States cruiser Rush fifty miles from the shore, but no skins were found aboard her. Although she was consequently exempted from the severities of capture, she was apparently sufficiently frightened to give up fishing for the remainder of the season, and to head straight for Victoria. From one point of view, these proceedings are amusing enough. They show the fear in which the United States Government stand of embarrassing themselves by real punitory proceedings. Every British ship taken into Sitka and confiscated for catching seals in the open sea constitutes a serious international incident. Previous confiscations, although they have brought loss to the victims, have also brought humiliation to the United States. The Attorney-General of the United States has felt himself compelled to order the release of condemned vessels, minus, no doubt, their cargoes of skins. The United States government have now, apparently, changed their tactics. They seem to think that sham captures will appease the Alaska Commercial Company, please Irish electors, frighten the simple fishermen of Victoria, and yet not provoke reprisals from the British government.

This is all very well. But the United States have no right even to play a game of bounce with the weapons of illegal captures and search. If the Victorian sealers have a right to catch seals in the open sea of Alaska, they have a right not to be intimidated from following a legitimate occupation. In no document that has yet been made public have the Americans ventured to justify, by reference to treaties or to international usage, their high-handed proceedings in Alaskan waters. They are probably quite conscious that such proceedings are in direct contradiction to doctrines which they have been loudest in asserting. Upon the usurpation of a power of search we have previously commented. The vindication of the right to immunity of ships of a friendly nation from search on the high seas was originally due to the Americans themselves. So, too, on the Atlantic sea-board they have been busily engaged for many years in contending that the three-mile limit follows the coast-line, instead of stretching from headland to headland. They do not apply the same rule to the indentations of the Alaskan coast. There they do not even accept the British doctrine in place of a three-mile limit they are so bold as to claim a 300 mile limit, giving them jurisdiction over all that portion of Behring Sea which is not claimed by Russia. They can only support such a claim by drawing an imaginary line from Kamschatka on the west to the promontory of Onnalaska on the east, a distance, roughly, of 1000 miles, and contending that the waters to the north are a mare clausum, partitioned between the United States and Russia. This is rather a large claim, and the fact that the line in question has some basis in a series of uninhabited islands extending from one promontory to the other, but with an interval between them in some cases of hundreds of miles, is hardly enough to induce our assent to it. It is quite true that Russia advanced the same pretensions before she sold Alaska to the United States in 1867 for £1,450,000, and that by the treaty concluded in that year Behring's sea was parcelled out between the contracting parties. But the American can have no better title than the czar was able to give them. The czar's claims had never been admitted by this or by any other country. Indeed, the United States government is said to have vigorously repudiated the Russian claim to exclusive jurisdiction when it was to involve it to do so.

It will be asked whether our foreign office is really doing anything to bring the question of the Alaskan seal fisheries to an issue, and whether it realizes that the game of America is to keep it open. Sir John Ferguson, in reply to a question in the house the other night, stated that Her Majesty's government are in communication with the government of the United States on the subject, and news comes from Ottawa this morning that negotiations are on foot for a settlement by arbitration. But one would like to know how long these communications are to last. The dispute is now of long standing. In its acute stage it has lasted three or four years, and yet during that period no diplomatic correspondence has been published showing the precise position taken up by the conflicting parties. The British Government, it appears, has declined to let the Pacific squadron protect the Canadian sealers. It ought not to be difficult to watch the United States cruiser which does all the mischief, and to interfere whenever an illegal seizure is attempted. Unless some active step of this kind is taken, the United States government will be perfectly content to interchange views until doomsday. In the meantime the fishermen of British Columbia may well question the use of an Imperial government which does not force on a settlement. As long as the dispute remains open, so long will the fishing community be paralyzed by the uncertainty in what direction to turn their industry. We have always recognized that the United States government can urge many weighty arguments in favor of protecting the seal fisheries by proper international regulations. The seal has been exterminated by wasteful methods of hunting, and especially by the use of firearms, in most of its old haunts, and the American islands of St. Paul and St. George, together with the Russian islands of Copper and Behring, are now almost the only breeding places to which the animal resorts habitually and with confidence. By means of killing only young males and avoiding the use of firearms a multitude of skins is annually obtained from these islands by the Alaska Commercial Company. The seals, however, do not stay constantly at home. They disport themselves in the surrounding sea at a distance of many miles, and make their way to the south on fishing excursions lasting many months together. It is said that when molested in the open sea they are frequently driven out of their course and never return to their breeding places. This plea may be exaggerated, but if it is true to any degree, it would justify the imposition of some restriction upon the operations of the Victorian and other unprivileged sealers. That the seal should be preserved from extermination every one must desire. The Americans would not find us unreasonable on that score. But if they persist in refusing to discuss any settlement whatever, our only course is to take vigorous steps to insure that what we maintain to be our rights are respected

HE IS AT HIS HOME AGAIN.

DR. TALMAGE WELCOMED IN BROOKLYN WITH ENTHUSIASM.

He Speaks on "The Sunrise," and His Text Is from Paul's Matchless Epistle to the Romans, xiii, 12—His Sermon in Full.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 8.—The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., was welcomed home today by an overflowing congregation. At the opening of the service the hymn beginning was sung with fine effect. Dr. Talmage's subject was "The Sunrise," and his text, "The day is at hand." Romans xiii, 12. He said:

Welcome, sweet day of rest,
That saw the Lord arise,

Back from the mountains and the seaside, and the springs, and the farmhouse, your cheek bronzed and your spirits lighted, I hail you home again with the words of Gehazi to the Shunammite: "Is it well with thee? is it well with thy husband? is it well with the child?" On some faces I see the mark of recent grief, but all along the track of tears I see the story of resurrection and reunion when all tears are done; the deep plowing of the keel, followed by the flash of the phosphorescence.

Now that I have asked you in regard to your welfare, you naturally ask how I am. Very well, thank you. Whether it was the bracing air of the Colorado mountains, 12,000 feet above the level of the sea, or the tonic atmosphere of the Pacific coast, or a bath in the surf of Long Island beach, or whether it is the joy of standing in this great group of warm hearted friends, or whether it is a new appreciation of the goodness of God, I cannot tell. I simply know I am grandly and gloriously and inexpressibly happy. It was said that John Moffatt, the great Methodist preacher, occasionally got fast in his sermon, and to extricate himself would cry "Hallelujah!" I am in no such predicament today, but I am full of the same rhapsodic ejaculation. Starting out this morning on a new ecclesiastical year, I want to give you the keynote of my next twelve months' ministry. I want to set it to the tune of Antioch, Ariel and Coronation. Some time ago we had a new stop put in this great organ—a new trumpet stop—and I want to put a new trumpet stop into my sermons.

WE NEED THE ELEMENT OF GLADNESS.

In all our Christian work you and I want more of the element of gladness. That man had no right to say that Christ never laughed. Do you suppose that he was glum at the wedding in Cana of Galilee? Do you suppose Christ was unresponsive when the children clambered over his knee and shoulder at his own invitation? Do you suppose that the evangelist meant nothing when he said of Christ: "He rejoiced in spirit?" Do you believe that the divine Christ, who pours all the water over the rocks at Vernal falls, Yosemite, does not believe in the sparkle and gallop and tumultuous joy and rushing rapture of human life? I believe not only that the morning laughs, and that the mountains laugh, and that the seas laugh, and that the cascades laugh, but that Christ laughed. Moreover, take a laugh and a tear into an alembic, and assay them, and test them, and analyze them, and you will often find as much of the pure gold of religion in a laugh as in a tear. Deep spiritual joy always shows itself in facial illumination. John Wesley said he was sure of a good religious impression being produced because of what he calls the great laughter he saw among the people. Godless merriment is blasphemy anywhere, but expression of Christian joy is ... appropriate everywhere.

Moreover, the outlook of the world ought to stir us to gladness. Astronomers recently have disturbed many people by telling them that there is danger of stellar collision. We have been told through the papers by these astronomers that there are worlds coming very near together, and that we shall have plagues and wars and tumults and perhaps the world's destruction. Do not be scared. If you have ever stood at a railroad center, where ten or twenty or thirty rail tracks cross each other, and seen that by the movement of the switch one or two inches the trains shoot this way and that, without any colliding, then you can understand how fifty worlds may come within an inch of disaster, and that inch be as good as a million miles. If a human switch tender can shoot the trains this way and that without harm, cannot the Hand that for thousands of years has upheld the universe, keep our little world out of harm's way? Christian geologists tell us that this world was millions of years in building. Well, now, I do not think God would take millions of years to build a house which was to last only six thousand years. There is nothing in the world or outside the world, terrestrial or astronomical, to excite dismay. I wish that some stout Gospel breeze might scatter all the malaria of human foreboding. The sun rose this morning at about half past 5, and I think that is just about the hour in the world's history. "The day is at hand."

THE WAR PERIOD IS PASSING AWAY.

The first ray of the dawn I see in the gradual substitution of diplomatic skill for human butchery. Within the last twenty-five years there have been international differences which would have brought a shock of arms in any other day, but which were peacefully adjusted, the pen taking the place of the sword.

That Alabama question in any other age of the world would have caused war between the United States and England. How was it settled? By men-of-war off the Narrows, or off the Mersey? By the Gulf Stream of the ocean crossed by a gulf stream of human blood? By the pathway of nations incarnadined? No. A few wise men go into a quiet room at Geneva, talk the matter over, and telegraph to Washington and to London: "All settled." Peace. Peace. England pays to the United States the amount awarded—pays really more than she ought to have paid. But still all that Alabama broil is settled—settled forever. Arbitration instead of battle.

So, the quarrel eight or nine years ago about the Canadian fisheries in any other age would have caused war between the United States and England. England said: "Pay me for the invasion of my Canadian fisheries." The United States said: "I will not pay anything." Well, the two nations say: "I guess we had better leave the whole matter to a commission." The commission is appointed, and the commission examines the affair, and the commission reports, and pay we ought, pay we must, pay we do. Not a pound of powder burned, not a cartridge biscuit off, no one hurt so much as by the scratch of a pin. Arbitration instead of battle.

So the Samoan controversy in any other age would have brought Germany and the United States into bloody collision. But all is settled. Arbitration instead of battle.

France will never again, I think, through peaceable of ambassador, bring on a battle with other nations. She sees that God, in the punishment of Sedan, blotted out the French empire, and the only aspirant for that throne who had any right of expectation died in a war that has not the dignity of even being respectable. What is that blush on the cheek of England today? What is the leaf that England would like to tear out of her history? The Zulu war. Down with the sword and up with the treaty.

We in this country might better have settled our sectional difficulties by arbitration than by the thrust of the sword. Philanthropy said to the north: "Pay down a certain amount of money for the purchase of the slaves, and let all those born after a certain time be born free." Philanthropy said at the same time said to the south: "You sell the slaves and get rid of this great national contest and trouble." The north replied: "I won't pay a cent." The south replied: "I won't sell." War! War! A million dead men, and a national debt which might have ground this nation to powder.

Why did we not let William H. Seward, of New York, and Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia, go out and spend a few days under the trees on the banks of Potomac and talk the matter over, and settle it, as settle it they could, rather than the north pay in cost of war, four billion seven hundred million dollars, and the south pay four billion seven hundred and fifty million dollars, the destroying angel leaving the first born dead in so many houses all the way from the Penobscot to the Alabama. Ye aged men, whose sons fell in the strife, do you not think that would have been better? Oh yes! we have come to believe, I think, in this country, that arbitration is better than battle.

CHRISTIANS ARE PEACEABLE.

I may be mistaken, but I hope that the last war between Christian nations is ended. Barbarians may mix their war paint, and Afghan and Zulu hurl poisoned arrows, but I think Christian nations have gradually learned that war is disaster to victor as well as vanquished, and that almost anything bought by blood is bought at too dear a price. I pride to God that this nation might be a model of willingness for arbitration. No need of killing another Indian. No need of sacrificing any more brave Gen. Custers. Stop exasperating the red man, and there will be no more arrows shot out from the reservation. A general of the United States army, in high repute throughout this land, and who, perhaps, has been in more Indian wars than any other officer, and who has been wounded again and again in behalf of our government in battle against the Indians, told me one of the worst Indian wars ever occurred in this country between Indians and white men had been provoked by white men, and that there was no exception to the rule. While we are arbitrating with Christian nations, let us toward barbarians carry ourselves in a manner unprovocative of contest.

I inherit a large estate, and the waters are rich with fish, and the woods are songful with birds, and my corn fields are silken and golden. Here is my sister's grave. Out yonder, under that large tree, my father died. An invader comes, and proposes to drive me off and take possession of my property. He crowds me back, and crowds me on, and crowds me into a closer corner and still closer corner, until after a while I say: "Stand back! don't crowd me any more, or I'll strike. What right have you to come here and drive me off of my premises? I got this farm from my father, and he got it from his father. What right have you to come here and molest me?" You blandly say: "Oh, I know more than you do. I belong to a higher civilization. I cut my hair shorter than you do. I could put this ground to a great deal better use than you do." And you keep crowding me back and crowding me on into a closer corner and closer corner, until one day I look around upon my suffering family, and, fired by their hardships, I hew you in twain. Forthwith all the world comes to your funeral to pronounce eulogium, to come to my execution to anathematize me. You are the hero, I am the culprit. Behold the United States government and the North American Indian. The red man has stood more wrongs than I would, or you. We would have struck sooner, deeper. That which is right in defense of a Brooklyn home or a New York home is right in defense of a home on top of the Rocky mountains. Before this dwindling red face dies completely out, I wish that this generation might by common justice atone for the inhumanity of its predecessors. In the day of God's judgment, I would rather be a blood smeared Modoc than a swindling United States officer on an Indian reservation! One man was a barbarian and a savage, and never pretended to be anything but a barbarian and a savage. The other man pretended to be a representative of a Christian nation. Notwithstanding all this, the general disgust with war and the substitution of diplomatic skill for the glistening edge of keen steel is a sign unmistakable that "the day is at hand."

RAPID TRANSIT A JOYFUL FACT.

I find another ray of the dawn in the compression of the world's distances. What a slow, snail like, almost impossible thing would have been the world's rectification with fourteen hundred millions of population and no facile means of communication; but now, through telegraphy for the eye and telephonic intimacy for the ear, and through steamboating and railroading, the twenty-five thousand miles of the world's circumference are shriveling up into insignificant brevity. Hong Kong is nearer to New York than a few years ago New Haven was; Bombay, Moscow, Madras, Melbourne within speaking distance. Purchase a telegraphic chart, and by the blue lines see the telegraphs of the land, and by the red lines the cables under the ocean. You see what opportunity this is going to give for the final movements of Christianity. A fortress may be months or years in building, but after it is constructed it may do all its work in twenty minutes. Christianity has been planting its batteries for nineteen centuries, and may go on in the work through other centuries; but when those batteries are thoroughly planted, those fortresses are fully built, they must do all their work in twenty-four hours. The world sometimes derides the church for slowness of movement. Is science any quicker? Did it not take science five thousand six hundred and fifty-seven years to find out so simple a thing as the circulation of the human blood? With the earth and the sky full of electricity, science took five thousand eight hundred years before it even guessed that there was any practical use that might be made of this subtle and mighty element. When good men take possession of all these scientific forces and all these agencies of invention, I do not know that the redemption of the world will be more than the work of half a day. Do we not read the queen's speech at the proroguing of parliament the day before in London? It is that be so, is it anything marvelous that in twenty-four hours a divine communication can reach the whole earth? Suppose Christ should descend on the nations—many expect that Christ will come among the nations personally—suppose that to-morrow morning the Son of God from a hovering cloud should descend upon these cities. Would not that fact be known all the world over in twenty-four hours? Suppose he should present his Gospel in a few words, saying: "I am the Son of God; I came to pardon all your sins and to heal all your sorrows; to prove that I am a supernatural being I have just descended from the clouds; do you believe me, and do you believe me now?" Why, all the telegraph stations of the earth would be crowded as none of them were ever crowded just after a shipwreck. I tell you those things to show you it is not among the impossibilities or even the improbabilities that Christ will conquer the whole earth, and do it instanter, when the time comes. There are foretokenings in the air. Something great is going soon to happen. I do not think that Jupiter is going to run us down, or that the axis of the world is going to break; but I mean something great for the world's blessing and not for the world's damage is going to happen. I think the world has had it hard enough. Enough, the London plagues. Enough, the Asiatic choleras. Enough, the wars. Enough, the shipwrecks. Enough, the conflagrations.

LOOK OUT FOR A CELEBRATION.

I think our world could stand right well a procession of prosperities and triumphs. Better be on the lookout. Better have your observatories open toward the heavens, and the lenses of your most powerful telescopes well polished. Better have all your Leyden jars ready for some new pulsation of mighty influence. Better have new fonts of type in your printing offices to set up some astounding good news. Better have some banner that has never been carried, ready for sudden processions. Better have the bells in your church towers well hung, and rope within reach, that you may ring out the marriage of the King's Son. Cleanse all your court houses, for the Judge of all the earth may appear. Let all your legislative halls be gilded, for the great Lawgiver may be about to come. Drive off the thrones of despotism all the occupants, for the King of heaven and earth may be about to reign. The darkness of the night is blooming and whitening into the lilies of morning cloud, and the lilies reddening into the roses of stronger day—fit garlands, whether white or red, for him on whose head are many crowns. "The day is at hand!"

One more ray of the dawn I see in facts chronological and mathematical. Come, now, do not let us do another stroke of work until we have settled one matter. What is going to be the final issue of this great contest between sin and righteousness? Which is going to prove himself the stronger, God or Diabolus? Is this world going to be all garden or all desert? Now let us have that matter settled. If we believe Isaiah and Ezekiel and Moses, and Micah and Malachi, and John and Peter, and Paul and Christ, we believe that it is going to be all garden. But let us have it settled. Let us know whether we are working on toward a success or toward a dead failure. If there is a child in your house sick, and you are sure he is going to get well, you sympathize with present pains, but all the foreboding is gone. If you are in a cyclone off the Florida coast, and the captain assures you the vessel is staunch and the winds are changing for a better quarter, and he is sure he will bring you safe into the harbor, you patiently submit to present distress with the thought of safe arrival. Now I want to know whether we are coming on toward dismay, darkness and defeat, or on toward light and blessedness. You and I believe the latter, and if so, every year we spend is one year subtracted from the world's woe, and every event that passes, whether bright or dark, brings us one event nearer a happy consummation, and by all that is unerrable in chronology and mathematics I commend you to good cheer and courage. If there is anything in arithmetic, if you subtract two from five and leave three, then by every rolling sun we are coming on toward a magnificent terminus. Then every winter passed is one severity less for our poor world. Then every summer gone by brings us nearer unfolding arborescence. Put your algebra down on the top of your Bible and rejoice.

If it is nearer morning at 4 o'clock than it is at 2, if it is nearer morning at 4 o'clock than it is at 3, then we are nearer the dawn of the world's deliverance. God's clock seems to go very slowly, but the pendulum swings and the hands move, and it will yet strike noon. The sun and the moon stood still once; they will never stand still again until they stop forever. If you believe arithmetic as well as your Bible, you must believe we are nearer the dawn. "The day is at hand."

MYSTERIOUS SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

There is a class of phenomena which makes me think that the spiritual and the heavenly world may after a while make a demonstration in this world which will bring all moral and spiritual things to a climax. Now, I am no spiritualist; but every intelligent man has noticed that there are strange and mysterious things which indicate to him that perhaps the spiritual world is not so far off as sometimes we conjecture, and that after a while, from the spiritual and heavenly world there may be a demonstration upon our world for its betterment. We call it magnetism, or we call it mesmerism, or we call it electricity, because we want some term to cover up our ignorance. I do not know what it is. I never heard an audible voice from the other world. I am persuaded of this, however; that the veil between this world and the next is getting thinner and thinner, and that perhaps after a while, at the call of God—not at the call of the Davenport brothers, or Andrew Jackson Davis—some of the old scriptural warriors, some of the spirits of other days mighty for God—a Joshua, or a Caleb, or a David, or a Paul—may come down and help us in the battle against unrighteousness. Oh, how I would like to have them here—him of the Red Sea, him of the valley of Ajalon, him of Mars Hill. History says that Robert Clayton, of the English cavalry, at the close of a war bought up all the old cavalry horses, lest they be turned out to dredge-ary and hard work, and bought a piece of ground at Navarmire Heath, and turned those old war horses into the thickest and richest pasture, to spend the rest of their days for what they had done in other days. One day a thunder storm came up, and these war horses mistook the thunder of the skies for the thunder of battle, and they wheeled into line—no riders on their backs—they wheeled into line ready for the fray. And I doubt me whether, when the last thunder of this battle for God and truth goes booming through the heavens, the old scriptural warriors can keep their places on their thrones. Methinks they will spring into the fight and exchange crown for helmet, and palm branch for weapon, and come down out of the king's galleries into the arena, crying: Hallelujah! I must fight in this great Armageddon."

My beloved people, I preach this sermon because I want you to toil with the sunlight in your faces. I want you old men to understand before you die that all the work you did for God while yet your ear was alert and your foot fleet is going to be counted up in the final victories. I want all these younger people to understand that when they toil for God they always win the day; that all prayers are answered, and all Christian work in some way is effectual, and that the tide is setting in the right direction, and that all heaven is on our side—saintly, cherubic, seraphic, archangelic, omnipotent, chariot and throne, doxology and procession, principalities and dominion; he who hath the moon under his feet and all the armies of heaven on white horses.

Brother! brother! all I am afraid of is, not that Christ will lose the battle, but that you and I will not get into it quick enough to do something worthy of our blood bought immortality. Oh, Christ! how shall I meet thee, thou of the scarred brow, and the scarred back, and the scarred hand, and the scarred foot, and the scarred breast, if I have no scars of wounds gotten in thy service? It shall not be so. I step out today in front of the battle. Come on, you foes of God, I dare you to the combat. Come on, with pens dipped in malignancy. Come on, with tongues forked and viperine and adderous. Come on, with types soaked in the scum of the eternal pit. I defy you! Come on! I bare my brow, I uncover my heart. Strike! I cannot see my Lord until I have been hurt for Christ. If we do not suffer with him on earth, we cannot be glorified with him in heaven. Take good heart, O ye! On! On! On! See! the skies have brightened! See! the hour is about to come! Pick out all the choicest of the anthems. Let the orchestra tune their best instruments. "The night is far spent, the day is at hand."

Whose is It?

Found Dead.

Sam French, a longshoreman, was found dead in his cabin near the Albion Iron Works this afternoon. The deceased had been ailing for some time and was under medical treatment. The coroner was notified of the death and will hold an inquest if necessary.

Fitting Up.

The sealing schooners are all having their old sails repaired and new ones made for next season. The Sapphire is to have an extra balloon jib of 200 yards area made, as well as a new fore top-mast and sail. With that additional canvas spread she should be a flyer indeed.

Valvoline.

A Canard.

The statement that Sam Gray, of Chemainus, died Thursday is erroneous, he at present being in fair health, although of late somewhat indisposed.

From the Orient.

The China-Japan liner Port Fairy, passed up to Vancouver at seven o'clock this morning, after a good run across of about thirteen days from Yokohama. Pilot Urquhart was in charge.

Crops in Saanich.

Threshing is well under way in Saanich. Oats, wheat and barley will be a short crop, owing to the unusually dry summer. Potatoes are a poor crop, owing to the same cause. Hay is only a fair crop.

Still Another Dance.

Rear Admiral Hensege, Capt. Hammet and the officers of the Swiftsure have invited an afternoon party for Thursday, the 19th, on board the flagship. Dancing from 2:30 to 6:30. Boats will be at Foster's and Esquimalt piers as before.

Tramway Bonds.

Sealers' Meeting.

The Sealers' Association held a meeting last night in Capt. Warren's office. The constitution, which sets forth the objects of the Association, was subscribed to. It was also decided to wait on Governor-General Stanley when he reached here. The meeting then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, Captain Warren.

First Drill.

The James Bay hose team met last night and elected the following officers: F. P. Gonge, captain; F. Wolfenden, president; G. Watson, foreman; W. F. Franklin, secretary and treasurer. The Dewdney Banquet.

The banquet to be tendered the Hon. Edgar Dewdney, on Monday night next, is assured of a large attendance of representative citizens. Already we know of one hundred and twenty gentlemen who have signified their intention of being present. To-day preparations were commenced at the Delmonico for the banquet. Tickets are $5 each.

Hon. Mr. Dewdney's Labors.

While in the city during the past few days, the Hon. Edgar Dewdney, Minister of the Interior, has received several deputations in regard to Indian affairs and settled up other minor matters. There has been nothing of an intricate character to adjust and the labor has been light. The distinguished gentleman will leave for the east about Wednesday.

Recognized.

Capt Folger, of the sealing schooner Penelope has been presented with a beautiful $60 diamond pin by Mr. Morris Moss, managing owner of the vessel, as a recognition of the services of the captain in securing a good catch of seal skins. Little things like these help to make a man know his past efforts are appreciated, and serve to incite the recipient to excel in future work.

A Bouquet.

Mr. Thomas Williams, the Gorge road florist, yesterday presented to the editor a magnificent bouquet. The variety of flowers, considering the advanced season of the year, was simply marvellous even to a Victorian, and the whole was a fine object lesson in the productiveness of Mr. Williams' garden, and the adaptability of our climate to the growth of all kinds of flowers.

Hastings Mills.

The sale of the Hastings saw mill property, including mill site and machinery, timber limits, etc., to the Royal City Planing Mills Co., which was first mentioned by THE TIMES a few days ago, has been completed and the business is now under the management of Mr. John Headly, of the R. C. P. M. Co. It is the intention of the purchasers to increase the capacity of the mill.

Laid Up.

The government dredger, Capt. Dexter, has been hauled off from the channel where she has been at work, and laid up preparatory to having her old boilers taken out and two new ones substituted. While she is out of commission, which will be for about a couple of months, a scow fitted with a steam scoop operated by a 20-horse power winding engine, will take her place and the work of deepening the channel will be gone on with as dexterously as ever.

Y. M. C. A.

The services of the association will be of special interest to-morrow on account of the presence of men many among whom are prominent in the work. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock, Mr. Jacks, the traveling secretary, will speak on the work in the Pacific Northwest, and in the evening there will be a gospel service for men, conducted by Mr. George Parker, general secretary, at 8:15 o'clock. On Monday evening the association will tender the secretaries a reception at the rooms.

Prof. Schlesinger.

Dr. Louis Schlesinger, who claims to be a healer and medium, of San Francisco, is at the Oriental, and at his invitation a representative of the TIMES made a test of his abilities this morning. He told the reporter's name and gave the name and residence (an obscure country town in England) of an uncle of the interviewer, the decease of which he died, and in fact recounted a good deal of unwritten private family history. Dr. Schlesinger is either a first class mind reader or has underground communication with spiritland.

Slate and Pipe Clay.

The slate quarry on Howe Sound discovered recently by W. H. Rowling, is directly opposite the north end of Gambier Island. The samples taken out for exhibition were obtained 4 feet from the surface, and the slate is more promising the deeper the excavation is made. The quarry is most advantageously situated. The largest vessel afloat can lie within four yards of the quarry, and all waste can be dumped into the sound at the mouth of the claim. This latter is a very important feature, one of the greatest items in the production of slate in Wales being the cost of removing the refuse from the quarry. About a mile back from the quarry is a valuable water power, which can be used, if necessary, for running the machinery. Another valuable discovery has been made on the same lot, in the shape of what is supposed to be a bed of pipe clay, 6 feet thick. Some of the clay has been sent to an expert for an opinion, but all who have seen it declare it to be the genuine thing.

FROM LIVERPOOL.

The British iron bark Lebu, 130 days from Liverpool, with a full general cargo of merchandise, consigned to Welch Rithet & Co., arrived this morning in Royal Roads, and will be brought into Welch, Rithet & Co's wharf at high tide this evening. The Lebu is a vessel of 706 tons gross, and was built in Dundee by the Gourlay Bros, in 1868. She is 184 feet long, 31 breadth and 10½ feet depth.

A FINE LODGE ROOM.

The Masonic Temple Beautifully Refurnished and Remodeled.

A few weeks ago the members of the Masonic fraternity in this city took steps toward having their lodge room renovated, and the change which has been wrought by the expenditure of some $1,500 is a noticeable one. New and rich carpets have been laid, platforms have been arranged at the ends and sides on which are oak chairs upholstered in dark red plush; the altar, of carved oak, as well as the officers' desks and chairs of the same material, look rich and tasty. Double curtains have also been fixed, in two colors, crimson and blue, the first to be used when the Royal Arch holds its meetings, the latter when the regular meeting of the lodge is held. With new furniture, the lodge room is one of the best furnished north of 'Frisco, but it is more than likely that the hall will be enlarged and redecorated in the near future, as the needs of the order will soon demand even larger offices.

Four Provincial Teams Leave for Tacoma—List of Races and Prizes.

The tournament will commence at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon with the "wet test." This race will be 700 feet in all; 500 feet to hydrant, lay 200 feet of hose, uncouple and screw on pipe; hose cart to carry not less than 300 feet of hose. The time to be taken when water leaves the pipe. First prize, $1000; second prize, $300; third prize, $100. Fifteen teams will compete in this race.

The Victoria hosemen in the "wet test" will be E. B. Irving, captain; T. Watson, H. Fisher, W. Helgeson, Geo. Moss, H. Maynard, F. Hinds, L. G. Burns, G. Storey, W. Deasy, C. Smith, M. McDougall, H. McDowell, S. Hall, Geo. Ledingham.

The second race will be the Association Championship Race, 150 yards to hydrant; attach, lay 350 feet of hose, put on pipe, get water, take length from cart and replace the second length from hydrant, get water; time to be called when water passes pipe second time. Cart to carry 450 feet of hose, all couplings made. First prize, $500; second prize, $200; third prize, $100.

Speed Race.—Distance, 700 feet; carts to carry not less than 250 feet of hose. Time to be taken when center of reel of hose cart crosses the score. First prize, $350; second prize, $100; third prize, $50.

Dry Test.—Distance, 600 feet in all; 400 feet to hydrant, make tight coupling, lay 200 feet of hose, break tight coupling, screw on pipe full three threads; cart to carry not less than 250 feet of hose. The time to be taken when the pipe is on. First prize, $400; second prize, $200; third prize, $100.

The Victoria team consists of the best runners and couplers in the province, and are confident of carrying off the first prize in the speed race, as well as several other prizes in the hose contests.

THE NEW WESTMINSTER TEAM.

The Hyack racing team left New Westminster for Tacoma on Thursday afternoon, via Vancouver, to take part in the tournament, for which they have been steadily preparing for several weeks. The team is composed of Geo. Scoulier (captain), Geo. Pitteudrigh, Jos. Stirsky, John Oliver, Guy Hall, Wm. Hill, J. Mauson, John Albro, Wm. Anderson, R. Ross, D. Mitchell, David Gray, and Wm. Murray. The men are in good training, and left in the best of spirits, and in the hopes of returning with spoils. The city council taking into consideration that their firemen render their services gratuitously to the city, has voted the sum of $100 towards defraying the expenses of their trip. That, in addition to some private subscriptions raised for the purpose, will probably be sufficient to foot their bills should they not come out victors in the race.

VANCOUVER'S CONTINGENT.

The following members of the Vancouver fire department left on the Premier on Thursday afternoon to compete in the tournament in Tacoma: T. W. Lillie, captain; J. F. MacDonald, manager and trainer; J. Garvin, S. H. Ramage, J. McKenzie, R. Rutherford, W. Saunders, D. Bigger, A. Montgomery, H. Campbell, Wm. Haywood, Jos. Douglas, B. Hall, G. Brown, W. L. Haywood, G. Thomas and Jas Morsh. The Vancouver boys have been training hard lately, and should come well to the front in the various contests.

NANAIMO'S TEAM

Is a strong one, being made up as follows: Chas. Williams, captain; E. Van Houghton, manager; Daniel McLeod, Fred. Peck, Bert. Peck, A. Pranfield, R. Pettigrew, W. Weddell, W. Taylor, Wm. Edmonds, Alex Shaw, R. Lukey, A. Castle, H. Horne, and T. C. Speers.

A large number of excursionists left with the teams this morning. Another excursion party will leave for Tacoma on Monday morning. The convention of chiefs will be held on Monday afternoon and evening. Chief Rainey, of Tacoma, extends an invitation to citizens of Victoria.

Pure, Glittering Gold.

In C. E. Redfern's window are two bars of gold from the Black Jack mine at Barkerville. One of the bars is 31.27 ozs. weight, valued at $526.82, and was the result of the crushing of 110 tons of free milling ore. The other bar is of 19.40 oz. weight and was the proceeds of 12 tons of ore from the same mine. The fineness of the bars are .733 and .815 respectively, their color is deep yellow, rather richer than that from some of the placers.
